Important: Basic does not mean weak structure. The structural work must still be properly built. The package difference is mainly finishing level, allowance limit, wet-area treatment, electrical/plumbing density and selected accessories.

Double-storey note: Upper-floor work is not priced the same as ground-floor work. It may involve scaffolding, slab/beam/column review, roof-level work, waterproofing, leakage risk, material lifting and authority/setback review.

03. GROUND FLOOR BACK / KITCHEN / YARD PRICE GUIDE

Use this section when the house is double-storey, but the extension is at ground floor only.

This table applies to:

- Ground floor back kitchen extension
- Ground floor wet kitchen area
- Ground floor yard extension
- Ground floor laundry area
- Ground floor rear extension

This is not exactly the same as single-storey work because tie-in, wall height, drainage, downpipe route and future upper-floor expectation may differ.

11. IMPORTANT SITE REVIEW NOTES

1. Property Type Notice

Prices are based on normal terrace/link-house conditions.

Semi-D, corner lot, bungalow, cluster home, gated/guarded property, exposed side wall, larger roof edge, side drainage, high ceiling, special facade or irregular layout may require site review and price adjustment.

Bungalow / link bungalow is generally custom quotation.

2. Existing Wall Type Notice

Package price assumes normal brick/block wall hacking only.

Concrete wall, RC wall, precast wall, IBS wall, structural wall, load-bearing wall or large wall opening requires site review and custom quotation.

3. Structure Suitability Notice

Upper-floor add-on and full ground + upper extension require structure/site review.

Existing structure, footing, beam, column, roofline, cracks, settlement, water leakage and previous renovation condition can affect final price.

4. Normal Height Assumption

Price assumes normal residential wall height and normal extension roof height.

High ceiling, double-volume space, special roof pitch or exposed high wall is quoted separately.

5. Opening Limitation

Package rates assume normal door/window openings only.

Large openings, sliding door, folding door, full-height glass, balcony glass, heavy aluminium/glass facade and grille/gate are quoted separately.

6. Roof / Gutter / Downpipe

Gutter/downpipe is included only where a new roof edge is created and stated in the quotation.

Existing rainwater reroute, low drain level, complicated discharge route, old roof leakage or existing roof defect is quoted separately.

Upper-floor roofline changes and front facade roofline work require site review.

7. Site Access

Prices assume normal access and normal material delivery route.

No rear access, narrow lane, long carry distance, guarded estate restriction, limited working hours, upper-floor material lifting or no storage space may affect final quotation.

8. Waste Disposal

Basic construction waste removal is for the agreed work area only.

Major hacking waste, skip bin, old furniture, existing cabinet removal, unrelated rubbish or extra disposal is quoted separately.

9. Minimum Job Price

For very small works, minimum mobilization price applies.

Installation, missing parts, modification, warranty and compatibility issues are not included unless stated.

11. Timeline

Work duration will be stated in the official quotation after site review.

Warranty does not cover existing house movement, old leakage, existing crack, owner-supplied product defect, third-party damage, misuse or work outside agreed scope.

12. COMMON QUESTIONS

Question	Answer
Are these raw material prices?	No. These are public guide selling prices.
Is this an all-in renovation price?	No. It covers the selected extension package only. Add-ons and exclusions must be confirmed in quotation.
Which table should I check first?	Check the Ready-Calculated Common Size Examples first. Use the size-band guide only if your size is not listed.
How do I calculate full double-storey area?	Length x width x 2 floors. Example: 10ft x 20ft x 2 = 400 sqft total built-up.

Why does upper-floor add-on cost more?	It may need structure review, slab/beam/column work, scaffolding, roof-level work, waterproofing and material lifting.
Does upper-floor add-on include staircase?	No. New staircase, stair relocation or major stair modification is quoted separately unless stated.
Why is small job price not simply sqft x rate?	Small works still need setup, transport, labour, protection, disposal and coordination. Minimum job price may apply.
Is table top included?	Not in the main extension package. Select Kitchen Table Top or Wet Kitchen add-on.
Is kitchen cabinet included?	No, quoted separately unless clearly stated.
Is toilet included?	No, select Toilet / Bathroom add-on.

Is permit/council submission included?	No, authority/professional fee is separate unless stated.

Question	Answer
Is ID/3D design included?	No, optional and quoted separately.
Is concrete wall hacking included?	No. Concrete/RC/precast/IBS/structural wall hacking requires site review and custom quotation.
Can semi-D/corner/bungalow use the same price?	Use this as an early guide only. Site review and price adjustment may apply. Bungalow is generally custom quote.
What if my size is 500 or 600 sqft per floor?	It falls under Large Extension Guide and requires site/structure review before price confirmation.
